Visakha Boochoa: Rituals and reflections

Visakha
Boocha day celebrates the Lord Buddha's
birth enlightenment and death

Also known as Wesak, it is one of the holiest days in the Buddhist year. This year it falls on May 19 in Thailand, the last Buddhist Kingdom in the world.

It is basically a time to reflect on the difficulties facing the less fortunate Like most Buddhist festivals a number of rituals are held to pay homage to the Lord Buddha, who himself lived a simple life.

The Lord Buddha was born in Lumpini Nepal, more than 2,000 years ago. He was a prince at birth and was then known as Siddhartha. His marriage to a princess resulted in the birth of a son, Rahula. During the early part of his life, he lived in the lavish comfort of his father's palaces.

But Siddhartha realized there was a lot of unnecessary suffering in the world that was caused simply by people wanting what they do not have He decided to forsake the material wealth and live the life of an ascetic in the forest His basic philosophy was that suffering is caused by desire.

Buddhists believe in reincarnation, where one's soul is reborn after death as another person, or another form of living creature, depending on the deeds of the previous life.

People who lead virtuous lives are believed reborn as higher beings.

The ultimate aim of the serious practitioner of Buddhism is

from suffering.

Merit-making ceremonies are held at every temple. Devout

Buddhists offer food to monks in the early morning to receive their blessings. Afterwards, they spend time praying and meditating, or listen to the monk's sermons. In the evening, gatherings are held in temples in preparation for the Wien Then, or candle processions

For those interested in taking part in this holy practice, just visit any temple

The ultimate aim of the serious practitioner of Buddhism is to reach nirvana the state of non-existence and total freedom.

Merit-making ceremonies are held at every temple. Devout Buddhists offer food to monks in the early morning to receive their blessings. Afterwards, they spend time praying and meditating, or listen to the monk's sermons. In the evening gatherings are held in temples in preparation for the Wien Thien, or candle processions.

For those interested in taking part in this holy practice just visit any temple in the country on this day

Jimmy Wong 2nd Tattoo Festival

on 16th - 18th May 2008, the great phenomenon that will assemble many skillful tattoo artists to create fine art on your body

For more than 30 years, the organizers have been well acquainted with both modern and traditional tattoo decorative designs. Therefore, the decorative designs of Khone drama (Thailand's traditional high-class stagecraft) will be emphasized in this festival.

At this time, Khone drama appears likely to fade from Thai society while ironically foreigners are showing more interest in its history and unique style. Since, there are hundred of questions about Khone and its decorative designs from tattoo lovers this will be a good chance for us to show our beautiful culture and art to the world.

Above all this will be the first time in Asia that more than 200 famous and skillful tattoo artists will be here to show their magnificent skills together in the "Jimmy Wong 2nd Tattoo Festival" in Pattaya.
